

Outline of Proposal for SDGs Online Cross-Registration: Online Exchange Program (OEP) focusing on SDGs

Name of University/ Institution		Shibaura Institute of Technology
General Information	Brief Introduction of the University/Institution	Shibaura Institute of Technology (SIT) has firmly maintained "learning through practice" as the philosophy in education of engineers ever since Tokyo Higher School of Industry and Commerce, the predecessor to SIT, was established in 1927. In response to the recent progress in the globalization of the economy, SIT is providing an up-to-date framework for "learning through practice" including intensive English Language programs, Project Based Learning programs under multicultural environment, along with many Hands-on subjects that has been preserved through SIT's history. SIT now aims to foster scientists and engineers who can contribute to the sustainable growth of the world by exposing our students to culturally diverse environments where they learn to cope with, collaborate with, and have ever-lasting friendships with fellow students from around the world.

Name of Subject	Diversity and Cultures of other countries	Name of Faculty	Dr. NED LOADER
Name of Department	Innovative Global Program
Program Information	Program Description & syllabus	· Course description: This course is conducted completely in English. (For Fall 2022 please check updated notices regarding class style [face-to-face / online] based on CoVid pandemic conditions.) In this omnibus course, each week a different professor in the Innovative Global Program introduces some aspects of their native country and culture as hints for living and working in their culture. Students can begin to understand and respect the culture, style of communication, and expectations in social behavior and workplace communication in 14 different cultures. · Purpose of class: This course is designed to prepare students to work in international teams as students, laboratory researchers, and engineers in their future careers. Students will begin to learn how to assess their own assumptions from their own culture and the key points about each culture they study. You will learn basic sociological frameworks for understanding diversity in the world, expected behavior and styles of communication, and practical hints on how to adjust to living and working in each culture presented. Ultimately, the goal is to begin to understand positive points about each culture, develop respect for diversity, openness to a variety of people, and some strategies for living in other cultures. http://svllabus.sic.shibaura-it.ac.jp/svllabus/2022/ko1/131776.html?g=M00
