Haruma : I'm home.

Mother : Welcome back! Were you able to meet your father at Narita Airport easily?

Haruma : Yes. He found me as soon as I went through the gate of the airport.

Father : I noticed him because he was wearing his favorite clothes.

Mother : Come here and have a seat.

Haruma : Thank you.

Mother : Returning by plane was longer than going, wasn't it? How many hours was the flight?

Haruma : About ten hours.

Mother : That's so long. Are you tired?

Haruma : No, I'm not. I slept well in the plane. ( ア )

Father : So, how was the homestay program in America?

Haruma : It was very interesting. This was my first homestay, you know, and my host family was so kind to me. They called me "family" when I met them for the first time. ( イ )

Father : That's good. I'm glad to hear that.

Mother : What's your most pleasant memory?

Haruma : Rafting! It was very exciting. The river was so fast that my friends fell into the river several times, and I did too. The water was very cold, but swimming in the river was great fun. While rafting, all of us were laughing the entire time. This memory of playing with my friends in the American nature is very unforgettable to me.

Mother : Surely, it's one of the best experiences of your life.

Father : Do you have other beautiful memories?

Haruma : Yes, I do, going out with my host family. They took me to many places, such as the seashore, the movie theater, the zoo, the rose garden, the science museum, the amusement park, and so on.

Father : Wow! So many places!

Haruma : I especially had a good time on my first Sunday. My host family and I enjoyed swimming in the pool all day long. ( ウ )

Father : Did they take you to a pool?

Haruma : ( ① ) Actually, they have a big pool in the garden! ( エ )

Mother : Wow! They must be a rich family to have a big pool!

Father : We also have a pool, though it's a small plastic pool for children.

Mother : Hahaha! That's true.

Haruma : We could never have a big pool.

Father : Anyway, go take a bath and have a good rest. Didn't you take long baths in America? Your host family have a big pool, but don't have a bathtub, do they?

Haruma : No, they don't. I only took a shower every evening. A big pool is wonderful, certainly, but I love a small ( ② ) !

B 次の文章を読んで、あとに続く問いに答えなさい。＊を付した語（句）は文末に〔注〕がある。

① Dogs are wonderful animals that have had a close relationship with humans for thousands of years. They come in different shapes, sizes, and colors, and each one has its own unique personality. Let's see the special qualities of dogs and the joys they bring to our lives.

⑥ Dogs are known for their fine senses. They have an excellent sense of smell, which makes them great at finding hidden objects with their noses, and even certain illnesses. Some dogs are trained to help people with vision problems. For example, guide dogs help them move around safely. ＊Hearing dogs inform their owners of important sounds, such as doorbells or fire alarms. Dogs truly have ㄦ amazing abilities.

⑨ In conclusion, dogs are loyal, playful, and loving creatures that bring great joy to our lives. They offer friendliness, support, and a sense of security. Taking care of a dog means responsibilities, but the love and happiness they bring in return are priceless. Whether they're playing with a ball or simply ㄨ staying with owners, dogs have a special place in our hearts as our faithful friends.

[注] a tug-of-war : 綱引き      vet : 獣医      hearing dogs : 聴導犬
