Yumiko: Hi, John, what are you going to do this Saturday? I have two tickets for the baseball game.

John: Really? I'd really love to go watch it, but I have to be in the library all day...

Yumiko: Why?

John: I'm going to have a science test on Monday next week, so I have to study there.

Yumiko: Then you can study on Sunday. The game starts at 6:00 and it will take about 3 hours. I think you have enough time to study for the test.

John: I know. But I have to visit my uncle's house to take care of his son on Sunday from 8 am to 5pm. So I think I will be too busy to go to the game. Thank you so much for inviting me, Yumiko. I hope I can go next time.

Yumiko: Ok, I hope you will do well on the test!

Question: What will John do on the weekend?

繰り返します。

<対話文 3>を始めます。

Hanako: Hi Tom.

Tom: Hi Hanako. I heard the new restaurant near school is great. How about going there for lunch?

Hanako: Sounds good. I think Keiko wants to try the restaurant, too. Let me ask her.

Tom: Ok, but I saw her a few hours ago and she said she needs to talk with her teacher around noon. So maybe she is free after that.

Hanako: Mmm... I need to come back by 1pm. It will take 15 minutes to get there. I don't think I can wait for her. You can go with her and tell me how it is. If it is a good restaurant, let's all go together some other time.

Tom: Ok!

Question: Who is going to the restaurant for lunch?

繰り返します。

これで問 1 を終わり、問 2 に入ります。

Woman:

Hello, everyone. I'm Yumi. I read an article about a girl, Malala. Have you ever heard about her? She is a famous girl who was shot by the Taliban, and she gave a speech at the United Nations. A lot of people from all over the world listened to her speech. She talked about her life and the importance of education. I was moved by her speech. She is very famous now, but she didn't want to be known as the girl who was shot by the Taliban. She just wanted to be the girl who fought for education. I was strongly impressed by her speech. Here is a very famous phrase from her speech, "Books and pens are the most powerful weapons. One child, one teacher, one book, and one pen can change the world." Since I read the article and her phrase, I have decided what I want to do in the future. I would like to teach children the importance of education.

Man: Question 1. For Yumi, what was the most impressive phrase said by Malala?

Man: Question 2. What is the main message of this speech?

Man: Question 3. How did Yumi feel about Malala's speech?

繰り返します。
